

What happens when an error is confirmed?

States are required to return the Federal share of overpayments to CMS. Monies determined to be improperly paid to providers will be recovered by the State of Florida.